Banking that is building California

Banking that is helping YOU

Your home . . . your job . . . your business . . . your profession . . . your property . . . these are California. By helping you and the millions of other California men and women conserve, improve, and increase these tangible personal assets, Bank of America is building California . . . . . building California by financing homes for Californians . . . by contributing to the development of California business and industry through the extension of credit from a vast reservoir . . . by the financing of California's unrivaled diversity of agricultural products . . . by extending a friendly financial service to countless thousands of California men and women.

Bank of America, beginning as a one room establishment in 1904, has become the nation's greatest branch banking institution, and with its branches everywhere in California is an important part of California . . . an important part of the great American banking system . . . an institution in which you can feel proud to be a depositor – protected by a code of sound management, by the time-tested principles of the Federal Reserve System, and by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The officers of your branch will gladly explain the many services available to you, including those mentioned in the back of this book.
